

Directory of

Voluntary Organizations

in the

Sandpoint Area

4th edition

October 2005

Compiled by: Jim Payne

Introduction to the fourth edition

The voluntary sector plays a vital role filling human needs in many areas. This sector also plays a moral and idealistic role in the community. Traditionally, societies have addressed social problems by relying on the threat of force—and of course force (including the threatened violence of taxation) is still the main approach used all around the world. In their humble way, voluntary groups demonstrate that there is another way. We can rely on persuasion and generosity—the voluntary methods for handling community problems. In a world vexed by violence and coercion, volunteers are quietly implementing the ideals of persuasion and generosity that make for a better world.

This year's directory includes 142 organizations, one more than last year: 15 groups have been added and 14 defunct groups have been dropped. These groups have a combined total of 15,419 members (based on the 103 groups reporting membership figures) and budgets of $6,090,500 (based on 72 groups reporting budgets). Leaders are urged to submit information on groups not yet listed, and to update information for next year's edition. The more information about a group—its budget, people to contact, and so on—the better its chances of attracting volunteers and donor support.

The editor thanks Mrs. Jean Maass for assistance in preparing this directory.

Definitions:

For purposes of inclusion in this directory, a voluntary group is defined as an organization that

- a) has a significant number of volunteers contributing unpaid services to the organization, and,
- b) obtains the preponderance of its resources (cash, labor, and services) through voluntary means (as opposed to depending on taxes).

The organizations in this directory have been grouped in the following categories:

1. Service, philanthropy, and fellowship
2. Social action
3. Sports
4. Health and self-improvement
5. Environment and facilities
6. Arts and culture
7. Hobbies and recreation
8. Production and commerce
9. Education
10. Religion
